

Points to speak on the topic - 'Black or Grey' GD topic:

- Many people dye their grey hair with black colour because of the perspective of society on ageing. When we see so many advertisements every day that promote products to look much younger than our real age, it's much difficult to choose natural grey hair over black hair, which represents youth. But the happy thing is that nowadays, more and more people are embracing their natural look with grey hair.
- Black colour represents strength, seriousness and strong emotions, whereas grey colour represents neutrality & balance. In the modern world, people who have strong emotions are easily offended by almost everything. But some people choose to be balanced and peaceful.
- Grey colour represents conformity, whereas black represents independence & authority. In society, many times we have to choose between these two paths. Depending on the situation we tend to select the path. In some situations, we try to blend in with the group by exhibiting the characteristics of grey & in some other situations, we choose to not blend in & feel the need to be rigid. And these qualities are very important to sustain and as well as to bring change in society.
- Nowadays, it is difficult to find good people who are as pure as white. Many times we are left with the choice of choosing between black & grey, which means evil persons & normal people who are a mix of good & bad.
- These days, the grey colour is being increasingly used in the fashion industry. As black is considered inauspicious by many, grey colour is the new choice in ethnic wear too. The use of grey colour is increased so much that it is competing with black colour, which is a famous colour in fashion. This makes us realize that change is the only constant thing in this world.
